Whereas the United Nations General Assembly did not vote on a resolution to admit the Russian Federation;

Whereas the United Nations General Assembly voted on resolutions to admit other former Soviet Socialist Republics;

Whereas there was not a United Nations General Assembly vote approving then Russian Federation President Boris Yeltsin’s letter transferring membership of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics to the Russian Federation; and

Whereas the Russian Federation under Vladimir Putin has repeatedly violated the United Nations Purposes and Principles, as established in the Charter of the United Nations, Article 2, paragraph 4 to “refrain in their international relations from the threat or use of force against the territorial integrity or political independence”: Now, therefore, be it
